Winter vs. Summer

Winter Comments

- Generally positive comments on the Winter Conference.
- Some expressed concerns about the quality of speakers and the continued use of sports related keynotes.
- Interest in providing more content depth.

Summer Comments

- Numerous comments on the Summer Conference were to note the individual's lack of attendance or regular attendance the Summer Conference.
- Many other comments such as:

“Summer conference has too much social activities and not enough substance for a conference”

“Seems more like a social outing than a professional conference”

“Days are usually less than full and hard to justify the use of taxpayer dollars”

“Summer is too much of a social gathering and hardly any educational programs”

“I really avoid the Summer”

“I would rather see more education for the summer [conference] or put the money toward an even better winter conference and just plan a summer party”

Opportunities to Learn About and Engage in MLGMA's Efforts

- There is an opportunity to better engage members, but most feel well informed.
- More interaction with the organization is desired at the two conferences.

Host Community

Conferences should be held in professionally managed communities.
